INTRODUCTION

Dear Veteran:

The VA Health Care for Re-entry Veterans (HCRV) Program is designed to address the community re-entry needs of identified incarcerated Veterans at County, State, and Federal correctional facilities who are either within six months of their parole eligibility date or within six months of release from custody. HCRV Specialists assist incarcerated Veterans by providing outreach, assessment, referral, and linkage to services as they transition from incarceration to the community. Short-term case management services may also be provided for up to four months post-release from custody if needed.

The HCRV Program is an essential and critical part of the Veterans Health Administration (VHA) and is vital for providing a gateway to VA and community supportive services for eligible Veterans who are in process of release from state and Federal prisons. HCRV is a VHA homelessness prevention effort, working to ensure that Veterans released from incarceration transition into productive and safe activity.

This guidebook will be an important tool for you as you begin to think about and plan for your release from custody. Please review all of the enclosed information thoroughly in order to better understand the opportunities available to you. When these resources are used properly, they may help you meet and successfully overcome challenges and other outside pressures that you may be confronted with upon your release from custody. These may include economic or financial issues, homelessness, relationship difficulties, family stress, other unresolved legal matters, gaining social acceptance, and any temptations that may lead you into negative thinking and resulting behaviors that may, in turn, lead you to a return to jail or prison.

This guidebook is a tool for Veterans incarcerated in the State of Alabama, as well as their families. Each state has an equivalent HCRV guidebook for incarcerated Veterans residing in or returning to their home state. These guidebooks may be accessed by your HCRV Specialist and provided to you if needed.

It is also important to note that laws may vary greatly from state to state. Therefore, please check your own state’s laws and regulations for the most accurate and appropriate information for you.

Thank you for your dedication and for your service to our country.

Sincerely,

Alabama Department of Veterans Affairs and Department of Corrections Task Force
It is important to note that agency information, physical addresses, phone numbers, and website addresses may change for various reasons. SECTION I: USING THIS GUIDE AND SEEKING HELP

This guidebook was developed in order to assist you with planning for your release from custody and to keep as a reference after your release. It includes addresses, telephone numbers, and web site information that you can use to find out about programs and other resources after your release.

Please keep in mind that this guidebook does not include all of the resources or services available. Please also keep in mind that resources available in one area may be different than those available in another, so be sure to check with local resources to learn about services in your area.

While you are incarcerated, find out which unit in your facility can help you plan for your release. Many correctional facilities have re-entry or reintegration staff on site that may be of assistance as you approach your release date. Correctional facilities may also offer classes that can help you improve your skills and prepare for life after release from custody. Please take advantage of any of the opportunities afforded to you before and after your release from custody.

It may be helpful to begin thinking about what specifically you will need upon release. Ask yourself these kinds of questions: Will I need housing? Will I need medical, substance abuse, or mental health care? Do I need to learn a job skill? Do I have any other legal issues, such as child support, probation, or parole requirements? Do I have a discharge that may disqualify me from receiving VA benefits? How do I restart my VA disability checks, Supplemental Security Income (SSI), or Social Security Disability Income (SSDI)?

Make a list of your needs. Remember that this is just a tool to help you get organized. A sample list might look like this:

- I need a place to live.
- I need a job.
- I need clothing.
- I need to find out what benefits I am eligible for as a Veteran.
- I want to continue to receive substance abuse and/or mental health treatment.
- I need to engage in primary care treatment.
- I need to work on a military discharge upgrade.
- I owe child support and/or have other unresolved legal issues.
- I need to have my VA disability or Social Security payments reinstated.

Think about this list as you read through this guide. Who do you think can help you with each of your needs? Is there one organization that may be able to work with you on many different things, or do you need to contact several agencies? Keep track of the steps you take, including the dates and names of people you contact for information or assistance. Although this guide provides national and state addresses for many organizations, we recommend that you check your phone book or the Internet for local, county, and state agencies that may have more information about what kind of help is available in your specific area.
A blank sample list to get you started is included on Page 9 of this guidebook. Please feel free to use this sample list or create your own list as needed.

When contacting an agency for help by mail, email, or phone: be clear, persistent, and polite. Write legibly and keep your communication short and to the point. Ask questions if information is not clear to you. Please remember that organizations may be staffed by volunteers who are eager to help you but may not have the answers you are looking for. If someone cannot help you, ask if they know someone who can. In this way, you will be more likely to obtain positive results.

The Internet is another useful tool through which to find information about VA benefits and community resources in your area. This guidebook includes web addresses when available. If computer access is not available at your correctional facility, you may visit the local public library in your community after your release. To find information pertaining to Alabama public libraries, and for a state-wide list including contact information, please contact:

SECTION II: WHERE TO START

Your post-release success depends greatly upon steps you take while incarcerated. Working in partnership with your county, state, or federal correctional facility re-entry and discharge planning staff, or institutional parole officer if you are parole-eligible, is crucial in order to develop an appropriate re-entry plan. Having a re-entry plan developed prior to your release can help to reduce some of the anxiety you may experience as your release date approaches as well as any challenges you may face upon your release from custody. This guidebook, although it contains important and beneficial resource information, can be more useful if it is used in partnership with programming and resources that may be offered by your correctional facility.

A. Basic Eligibility Requirements
To be considered a “Veteran” eligible for Department of Veterans Affairs (VA) health care benefits, a former service-member must have been discharged “under conditions other than dishonorable.” Under VA regulations, administrative discharges characterized by the armed services as “Honorable” or “General Under Honorable Conditions” are qualifying, and punitive discharges (“Dishonorable” or “Bad Conduct”) issued by general courts-martial are disqualifying. You have left our “Entry Level Separation” which we see a lot of. These are usually give for failure to meet a procurement standard or for failing an initial drug test at boot camp.

In general, individuals who served in the active military, naval, or air service and who received Honorable or General discharge may qualify for VA healthcare benefits. Other Than Honorable, Bad Conduct, or Dishonorable discharges may bar access to VA benefits. Reservists and National Guard members may also qualify for VA healthcare benefits if they were called to active duty (other than for training only) by a Federal order and completed the full period for which they were called or ordered to active duty.

Active service, or active duty, means full-time service as a member of the Army, Navy, Air Force, Marine Corps, and Coast Guard. Active Duty for Training (ADT) does not qualify a service member for VA healthcare benefits or programming unless the service member has applied for, and has been granted, a service-connected disability rating for an injury or illness incurred during training.

Minimum Duty Requirements: Veterans who enlisted after September 7, 1980, or who entered active duty after October 16, 1981, must have served 24 continuous months or the full period for which they were called to active duty in order to be eligible. This minimum duty requirement may not apply to Veterans discharged for hardship, early out, or a disability incurred or aggravated in the line of duty.

Women Veterans are eligible for the same VA benefits as male Veterans and the eligibility determination process is the same.

Eligibility requirements are determined by laws set forth by Congress. Each VA medical center has eligibility and admissions specialists who will review your submitted documentation in order to determine your eligibility status as well as what Priority Group you will be placed in for healthcare services and programming. Another resource for you is the VA Health Care for Re-Entry Veterans (HCRV) Specialist who works with your specific correctional facility.

B. Other Than Honorable (OTH) Discharges
If you were given a Bad Conduct Discharge issued by Special Court Martial, an Other Than Honorable Discharge, or an Undesirable Discharge (there is no longer an Undesirable discharge that I am aware of), the VA will determine on a case-by-case basis whether you are entitled to benefits. The Veterans Administration (VA) will consider all the facts surrounding your service and decide if the quality of your service qualifies you for disability compensation and VA health care. This is called a "character of service" determination.

An individual with an “Other than Honorable” discharge that VA has determined to be disqualifying under application of title 38 C.F.R. §3.12 still retains eligibility for VA health care benefits for service-incurred or service-aggravated disabilities unless he or she is subject to one of the statutory bars to benefits set forth in Title 38 United States Code §5303(a). Authority:
Section 2 of Public Law 95-126 (Oct. 8, 1977).

VA Health Care Benefits: If an individual presents or makes an application for VA health care benefits and has an “Other Than Honorable” or “Bad Conduct” discharge, eligibility staff may register the individual and place in a Pending Verification Status. A request for an administrative decision regarding the character of service for VA health care purposes must be made to the local VA Regional Office (VARO). This request may be submitted using a VA Form 7131, Exchange of Beneficiary Information and Request for Administrative and Adjudicative Action. In making determinations of health care eligibility the same criteria will be used as are now applicable to determinations of service connection when there is no character of discharge bar.

It is important to note that a discharge found by VA to have been issued under dishonorable conditions does not, in and of itself, bar an individual from receiving VA benefits based on a separate period of service which terminated under honorable conditions. In addition, the law provides for basic eligibility for benefits based on completion of the full term of an enlistment even if no discharge was issued at the completion of that period of service due to enlistment or reenlistment.

For example, if an individual enlisted for three years, completed the three years and reenlisted for two more years, then received a discharge under Other Than Honorable Conditions during the second enlistment, VA benefits may be provided based on the first period of service, even if it is determined that the character of discharge of the second period of service is a bar to benefits.
However, disability compensation would be payable only for disabilities incurred during the first period of service, not for disabilities that were incurred during the second period of service.

We need to add in a note that discharge upgrade request take over a year to process so we need to address these issues early on and not wait until someone has months left before their release.
C. Enrollment

For most Veterans, entry into the VA healthcare system begins by applying for enrollment. This includes completion of the VA Form 10-10EZ (Application for Health Benefits) and submission of your DD214 (and your DD215 if you have received a formal change or amendment to your DD214), which documents your service dates and type of discharge. For National Guard or Reserve members, a form NGB-22 or DD214 with notated Title 10 Executive Order activation periods is required to determine eligibility for enrollment in VA healthcare services.

Often, incarcerated Veterans may not have a copy of their DD214. If you do not have a copy of your DD214, you may request a certified copy by completing a VA Form SF-180 (Request Pertaining to Military Records). Alternatively, you may request a copy by contacting the National Personnel Records Center in St. Louis, MO (www.archives.gov/st-louis). On-line request may be submitted at vetrecs.archives.gov/VeteranRequest/home.html. You may also wish to include requests for a complete copy of your service personnel file and service medical records for future use.

The SF-180 provides instructions for completing the form and also provides the mailing addresses to which to send your completed form. The Health Care for Re-entry Veterans Specialist who provides release planning services at your correctional facility is another good resource and is able to assist you with completion of the form if needed. It is very important that you complete this form properly and completely. If you do not, your request may be delayed or rejected outright. Please double check your form to make sure that you have completed all sections, signed, and dated it prior to mailing.

VA Form 10-10EZ may be obtained from any VA healthcare facility or VA regional benefits office. It may also be obtained by contacting the VA Health Resource Center at 877-222-8387 or on the Internet at www.1010ez.med.va.gov. As with the SF-180, please make sure that you complete the form properly and completely. If it is not, VA will not be able to complete the processing of your enrollment. Please note that income information is for the previous calendar year. If you received no income or entitlements during the past year, please write “0” in the spaces provided. The VA Form 10-10EZ can be completed online at: www.vets.gov/health-care/apply/application/introduction.

Should you decide to decline enrollment in VA services prior to your release but decide to do so at a later time, you may enroll at any VA site. Please bring a copy of your DD214 and be prepared to complete a form 10-10EZ in order to complete your enrollment.

D. VA Benefits While Incarcerated

There is a 60-day “grace period” following a conviction for a felony when you may still receive full benefits.

To avoid an overpayment, it is important that you notify the VA Regional Office (VARO) immediately when you go to prison if you are receiving payments. If you do not notify the VA and receive an overpayment, you and your family will lose all financial payments until the debt is paid. The VA considers it to be the Veteran’s responsibility and fault if this occurs because the Veteran failed to notify the VA of his or her incarceration. Attempts to obtain a waiver in these situations of overpayment are often unsuccessful.

For Example: Don is a Veteran who receives a VA pension. He commits a crime, is convicted, and is incarcerated. He does not notify the VA of this right away and continues to receive his full pension for six months. After serving his sentence of 18 months, he is released from custody and applies to the VA to have his pension reinstated. He will have an overpayment that must be recovered from the reinstated benefits. Until the overpayment is recovered, Don will likely have to go without that income.

After the 61st day of incarceration, Veterans receiving 20% service-connected benefit or higher prior to incarceration will begin to receive 10% of their service-connected benefit monthly. Veterans receiving 10% service-connected benefit prior to incarceration will begin to receive 5% of their service-connected benefit monthly. This will continue until the completion of the period for which they are incarcerated. Veterans who are in receipt of Non-Service Connected Pension benefits will have their benefits stopped up on incarceration.

Notify the VA of your change in status to avoid an overpayment which will have to be repaid. Complete VA Form 21-4193 (Notice to Department of Veterans Affairs of Veteran or Beneficiary Incarcerated in Penal Institution). Have it signed by a prison official and submit it to the VA Regional Office. Note: This form may also be used to notify the VA of your release. See Section E Reinstatement of Benefits Upon Release.

Apportionment
Legally, a Veteran can only receive a portion of the full amount payable for his or her disability rating while incarcerated. However, the remaining balance may be “apportioned to the individual’s dependent family.” This means that your (Beneficiary’s) members (spouse, children, or dependent parents) may be able to receive a part of your benefits while you are incarcerated. VA regulations clearly specify an apportionment amount will only go to family members if they can demonstrate financial need.

To apply for an apportionment, you must submit VA Form 21-0788 and VA Form 21-4138 requesting an apportionment of the veteran’s compensation benefit to the VA Regional Office (VARO) below that identifies you as the Veteran and your spouse, children and/or parent as dependents.

In deciding whether any apportionment is appropriate, the amount of the apportionment, and to whom it will go to, the following factors are considered:

• The family member’s income and living expenses;
• The amount of compensation available to be apportioned;
• The needs and living expenses of other family members;
• Special needs of any of the family members.

For Example: Jim is rated as 70% service-connected. While incarcerated, he can only receive 10% of his service-connected benefit. However, his family may be apportioned up to 60%, the difference of the 70% rating. Jim would still receive 10% service-connected benefit, and his family would receive 60%.

There is a 60-day “grace period” following a conviction when the Veteran or his/her dependent family may still receive full benefits. If you continue to receive benefits after the 60-day period, it will result in an overpayment. The VA considers it to be your responsibility and fault if this occurs because you failed to notify the VA of your incarceration. As a rule, the Veteran loses most, if not all, financial benefits until the VA recovers the entire overpayment. It has also been a standard procedure that the family will not be entitled to receive an apportionment until the debt is recovered completely. (Is this not already covered above?)

It is important to remember that most VA decisions, including those on apportionment, can be appealed to the Board of Veterans Appeals and to the Court of Appeal for Veterans Claims.

VA Regional Offices (VARO’s) may assist with clarifying the eligibility of prisoners, parolees, and individuals with multiple discharge statuses under differing conditions. Contact information for the Alabama VARO is:

Montgomery Regional Benefit Office
345 Perry Hill Road
Montgomery, AL 36109
Phone: 800-827-1000
Monday–Friday, 8am–4pm

It is important to note that VA medical care cannot be provided to Veterans while they are in prison. Current regulations restrict VA from providing hospital and outpatient care to an incarcerated Veteran who is an inmate in an institution of another government agency when that agency has a duty to provide the care or services for that Veteran.

E. Reinstatement of Benefits upon Release

Upon your release from prison, this includes being released at the end of your sentence, released to parole and work release, you will need to have your benefits fully reinstated. The VA Regional Office (VARO) requires formal notification from the correctional facility pertaining to your release in order to reinstate benefits. This means that you will need to bring your release papers to the VARO in person or to your nearest county veterans service office. If being released from an Alabama state prison, this is likely your Receipt of Released Convict (Form C-80). The sooner that documentation is provided to VARO, the sooner VARO is able to begin to process your request for benefit reinstatement. Your award for compensation or pension benefits should resume from the date you are released, as long as the VA receives notice of your release within one year.

Alternatively, you may complete VA Form 21-4193 (Notice to Department of Veterans Affairs of Veteran or Beneficiary Incarcerated in Penal Institution) (may also be used to notify the VA of your incarceration; see Section D. VA Benefits While Incarcerated) before your release, have it signed by a prison official, and submit it to the VA Regional Office. Should you decide to pursue this means of reinstating your benefits, please make sure that you make a photocopy of the form prior to mailing. This will ensure that you still have a copy for your own records or in the event that the mailed form is lost.

Fugitive Felons
The Department of Veterans Affairs is prohibited from providing or continuing to provide health care and services, including medications and any care provided in the community, at VA expense or compensation or pension payments to Veterans and beneficiaries identified as fugitive felons. A Fugitive Felon is defined as a person who is:

1. Fleeing to avoid custody or confinement after conviction for an offense which is a felony under the laws of the place from which the person is fleeing, or for an attempt to commit such an offense; and/or

2. Fleeing to avoid prosecution for an offense which is a felony; and/or

3. Violating a condition of probation or parole imposed for committing a felony under Federal or State law.

VA will mail a letter to the Veteran or beneficiary identified as a fugitive felon to inform them of their status and termination of all VA health care benefits. VA staff will take appropriate steps to transition the fugitive felon’s health care from VA programs to alternative care outside the VA health care system. VA cannot pay for any of this alternative care. In addition, VA will bill the Veteran and/or beneficiaries for all VA provided care received while in this fugitive felon status.

Persons identified as a fugitive felon must contact the Originating Agency (Court) that issued a felony warrant, not the VA Police, if it is believed:

1. An error was made, such as mistaken identity.
2. The warrant should be cancelled.
3. The warrant has been satisfied by your arrest or surrender.
4. There are other reasons, which would resolve the warrant.

Evidence that the warrant has been satisfied should be provided to your local VARO or to your local county veterans service office.

For additional information concerning the Fugitive Felon Program, please contact the Fugitive Felon Coordinator or Enrollment Coordinator at your local VA medical care facility or contact VA at 877-222-VETS (8387).

F. Discharge Upgrades
If you are not eligible for VA benefits or services because of the character of your military discharge (such as Other than Honorable, Bad Conduct, or Dishonorable), you may consider applying for a discharge upgrade from the Military Discharge Review Board.

Each of the military services maintains a discharge review board with authority to change, correct, or modify discharges or dismissals that are not issued by a sentence of a general courts-martial. The board has no authority to address medical discharges. The veteran or, if the veteran is deceased or incompetent, the surviving spouse, next of kin or legal representative may apply for a review of discharge by writing to the military department concerned, using DoD Form 293. This form may also be obtained at a VA regional office, from veterans’ organizations. However, if the discharge was more than 15 years ago, a veteran must petition the appropriate service Board for Correction of Military Records using DoD Form 149, which is discussed in the “Correction of Military Records” above. A discharge review is conducted by a review of an applicant’s record and, if requested, by a hearing before the board.

Discharges awarded as a result of a continuous period of unauthorized absence in excess of 180 days make persons ineligible for VA benefits regardless of action taken by discharge review boards, unless VA determines there were compelling circumstances for the absence. Boards for the correction of military records also may consider such cases.

Veterans with disabilities incurred or aggravated during active military service may qualify for medical or related benefits regardless of separation and characterization of service. Veterans separated administratively under other than honorable conditions may request that their discharge be reviewed for possible re-characterization, provided they file their appeal within 15 years of the date of separation. Questions regarding the review of a discharge should be addressed to the appropriate discharge review board at the address listed on DoD Form 293.

Although this process may be complicated and time consuming, it may be worth pursuing. Here are a few important points:

1. Because of the time consuming nature of the discharge upgrade process and the need to collect documentation that will support your request, we strongly suggest that you wait until after your release from incarceration before applying for a discharge upgrade. I disagree with this statement depending on the circumstances of the incarceration the vet should being the process two to three years before their projected release.

2. If and when you do undertake this process, we strongly urge you to obtain assistance. Many of the Veterans Services Organizations listed in this guidebook offer experienced guidance at no cost to you. Please review the information enclosed in this guidebook for contact information.

Be aware that the discharge review process is a very complicated one and assistance should be sought in the preparation of the case to be submitted.

Contacting Military Service Review Boards:
Mailing addresses for each Service Review Board are also listed on the individual forms.

In addition to organizing commemorative events and volunteer Veteran support activities, the American Legion is active in issue-oriented U.S. politics. J. Health Care for Re-entry Veterans (HCRV) Program
The Department of Veterans Affairs Health Care for Re-entry Veterans (HCRV) Program provides outreach and re-entry planning via VA HCRV Specialists to eligible Veterans who are within six months of release from incarceration. The goals of this program are to educate incarcerated Veterans about VA services and benefits, to conduct assessments pertaining to Veterans’ needs, to optimize a Veteran’s chances for success in the community through comprehensive release planning, and to provide linkage to VA services.
HCRV Specialists work in partnership with correctional facilities to identify incarcerated Veterans and to coordinate visits to the facilities in order to meet with identified eligible Veterans prior to their release. HCRV Specialists work closely with correctional facility re-entry and discharge planning staff in order to develop release plans based upon the Veteran’s identified needs, goals, and available services. Services typically include assistance with shelter/transitional housing as well as treatment services for primary care, mental health, or substance abuse services.

The lead HCRV Specialist for Alabama is:

Marguerita D. High, Health Care for Re-entry Veterans Specialist
1310 13th Street
Columbus, GA. 31907
Phone: 334-558-8505
Email: Marguerita.High@va.gov

If you are within six months of release from custody, please speak with your facility case manager, re-entry staff, or discharge planner. Many correctional facilities ask newly incarcerated individuals whether they have served in the military or are Veterans. This question assists correctional staff with communicating with HCRV program staff when a Veteran is within six months of release. Many facilities also offer Veteran-focused activities and groups on-site. However, some Veterans may not choose to divulge their Veteran status for various reasons.

In order for the HCRV program to assist you, it is important to let correctional facility staff know of your Veteran status. The HCRV Specialist can provide you with information and linkage to important services that can assist you upon your release from custody.

K. Veterans Justice Outreach (VJO) Program:
The purpose of the Veterans Justice Outreach initiative is to prevent homelessness among justice-involved Veterans. The VJO program works with Veterans in effort to avoid the unnecessary criminalization of mental illness and extended incarceration among Veterans by ensuring that eligible justice-involved Veterans have timely access to VHA services as clinically indicated. Veterans Justice Outreach Specialists are responsible for direct outreach, assessment, and case management for justice-involved Veterans in local courts and jails and liaison with local justice system partners. The VJO program targets Veterans with known or suspected service-related mental health conditions that demonstrate some correlation to their legal issue. VJO staff work with Veterans who are pre-trial or on probation and also attend court sessions in effort to dialogue with court staff (judges, attorneys, etc.) to propose treatment options that may be considered in lieu of incarceration of the Veteran.

For Alabama, the current VJO Specialists are as follows:

- Birmingham VA Medical Center, Ahmad Brewer, 700 S. 19th Street, Birmingham, AL 35233
L. Health Care for Homeless Veterans (HCHV) Program
Initially serving as a mechanism to contract with providers for community-based residential treatment for homeless Veterans, many HCHV programs now serve as the hub for a myriad of housing and other services which provide VA a way to outreach and assist homeless Veterans by offering them entry to VA care.

Outreach is the core of the HCHV program. The central goal is to reduce homelessness among Veterans by conducting outreach to those who are the most vulnerable and are not currently receiving services and engaging them in treatment and rehabilitative programs.

Contract Residential Treatment Program ensures that Veterans with serious mental health diagnoses can be placed in community-based programs which provide quality housing and services.

Every VA Medical Center has a Health Care for Homeless Veterans (HCHV) Coordinator who is responsible for helping homeless Veterans access VA and community-based care to end homelessness among Veterans. The HCHV program provides outreach, clinical assessments, as well as referrals for medical and mental health care, long-term transitional residential assistance, case management, and employment assistance with linkage to permanent housing.

SECTION III: HELP FOR VETERANS

This section includes Veteran-specific as well as community-based resources that may help you get back on your feet upon your release from custody. Please remember to check the phone book yellow pages or Internet for local, county, and state agencies that know what specific services are available in your area to assist you. You may start by looking under “Homelessness” or “Social Services Organizations” for a listing of local organizations that offer various services, including clothing, public transportation tokens or vouchers, emergency shelter, and more. If using a phone book, government agencies are typically listed in the blue pages found near the front of the book. If using the Internet, please visit www.yellowpages.com/state-al to start your search or use web-based search engines such as Yahoo (www.yahoo.com) or Google (www.google.com). As information found on the Internet may be outdated or inaccurate, please make sure to contact the program or resource directly to ensure that the information located is indeed current.

It is important to be aware that some organizations and programs may have wait lists, require an interview, or have specific rules or criteria regarding the population they serve. It may be a good idea to begin inquiring about services and their specific requirements now so that you will be better prepared when you are released. Some programs may allow you to be placed on their wait list as you get closer to your release date. Your designated correctional facility re-entry or reintegration staff at county correctional facilities or Housing Support Specialist (HSS) at AL Department of Corrections facilities is a good point of contact for resources and guidance.

Another important consideration to take is regarding whether or not you want to enroll in VA healthcare or programming. Although many incarcerated Veterans have received VA services or programming previously, many have not. Sometimes this is because they may have not realized that they were eligible for care, have not felt that they wanted or needed these services in the past, or felt that they would prefer to let other Veterans who may be in perceived greater need of these services have access to them. The VA may be a positive starting point for you upon your release from custody and has a wide array of services and programming to assist you.

Please remember that as a Veteran who has dedicated himself or herself to service of this country, and who has honorably served, you may be eligible for services through the VA healthcare system. There may be a sense of security in knowing that you have access to healthcare and services upon your release that is specifically focused on Veterans and their needs. It is a system of care that is there for you, is dedicated to serving Veterans, and is proud and honored to serve you.

Some guidance is included below, but your local service organizations are your best resource. Remember, it never hurts to ask!

IMPORTANT TELEPHONE NUMBERS AND WEB SITES
If you are using a phone book, crisis and toll-free numbers are typically listed in the front cover or first few pages. You may also want to check under “Social Services” in the blue or yellow pages for hotlines and local numbers. This information is also readily available online.

SECTION V: RE-ENTRY MYTH BUSTERS!

Reentry MythBusters are a first product of the Federal Interagency Reentry Council. They are essentially fact sheets, designed to clarify existing federal policies that affect formerly incarcerated individuals and their families in areas such as public housing, access to benefits, parental rights, employer incentives, Medicaid suspension/termination, and more. Some federal laws and policies are narrower than is commonly perceived, as is the case with public housing and food assistance benefits. In several policy areas, states and localities have broad discretion in determining how policies are applied and/or have various opt-out provisions for states. In some cases, statutory barriers do not exist at all or are very limited, as is the case with federal hiring. In fact, some federal policies and practices contain incentives for assisting the formerly convicted population (i.e., federal bonding and tax incentives for employers hiring formerly convicted individuals).

These Fact Sheets can be found on-line at:
csgjusticecenter.org/documents/0000/1090/REENTRY_MYTHBUSTERS.pdf

However, we have provided a summary of the fact sheets below:

MYTH: Individuals who have been convicted of a crime are “banned” from public housing FACT: Public Housing Authorities have great discretion in determining their admissions and occupancy policies for ex-offenders. While PHA’s can choose to ban ex-offenders from participating in public housing and Section 8 Programs, it is not HUD policy to do so. In fact, in many circumstances, formerly incarcerated people should not be denied access. There are only two convictions for which a PHA MUST prohibit admission:
- If any member of the household is subject to a lifetime registration requirement under a State sex offender registration program
- If any household member has ever been convicted of drug-related criminal activity for manufacture or production of methamphetamine on the premises of federally assisted housing

MYTH: People with criminal records are automatically barred from employment.
FACT: An arrest or conviction record will NOT automatically bar individuals from employment. If an employer is aware of a conviction or incarceration, that information should only bar someone from employment when:
- The conviction is closely related to the job after considering the nature of the job
- The nature and seriousness of the offense, and the length of time since it occurred
- Advice: Be honest on your application. While having a conviction on your record does not bar you from employment, hiding it from your prospective employer can make you seem dishonest.

MYTH: The Federal Government’s hiring policies prohibit employment of people with criminal records.
FACT: The Federal Government does not have a policy that precludes employment of people with criminal records from all positions. The principle issues for agencies as they consider hiring people with criminal records involve making determinations related to:
• An individual’s character traits and conduct to determine whether employment would or would not protect the integrity and promote the efficiency of the federal service
• Whether employment of the individual in the department or agency is consistent with the interests of national security
• The nature, seriousness, and circumstances of the criminal activity and if there has been efforts toward rehabilitation

MYTH: An employer can get a copy of your criminal history from companies that do background checks without your permission.
FACT: According to the Fair Credit Reporting Act (FCRA), employers must get one’s permission, usually in writing, before asking a background screening company for a criminal history report. If one does not give permission or authorization, the application for employment may not get reviewed. If a person does give permission but does not get hired because of information in the report, the potential employer must follow several legal obligations.

MYTH: Child welfare agencies are required to terminate parental rights if a parent is incarcerated.
FACT: Important exceptions to the requirement to terminate parental rights provide child welfare agencies and states with the discretion to work with incarcerated parents, their children and the caregivers to preserve and strengthen family relationships.

MYTH: Non-custodial parents who are incarcerated cannot have their child support orders reduced.
FACT: Three quarters of the States have the ability to suspend orders during periods of incarceration and 25 States have implemented formalized initiatives or processes to reduce orders during incarceration. However, the process is not automatic. In most states, incarcerated non-custodial parents have to initiate a request for a review of their order before any adjustment or modification can be made.

MYTH: A parent with a felony conviction cannot receive TANF/Welfare.
FACT: The 1996 Welfare ban applies only to convicted drug felons, and only eleven states have kept the ban in place in its entirety. Most states have modified or eliminated the ban.

MYTH: Individuals convicted of a felony can never receive Supplemental Nutrition Assistance Program (SNAP, formerly the Food Stamp Program) benefits.
FACT: This ban only applies to drug felons, and only thirteen states have kept the ban in place in its entirety. Most states have modified or eliminated the ban.

MYTH: An individual cannot apply for Supplemental Nutrition Assistance Program (SNAP, formerly the Food Stamp Program) benefits without a valid State-issued identification card.
FACT: A person can get SNAP benefits even if he or she does not have a valid State Identification Card. Acceptable documents include:
- A birth certificate
- An ID card for health benefits or another assistance program (such as VA ID)
- A school or work ID card, wage stubs containing the applicant’s name.
MYTH: Incarceration exempts individuals from the requirement to file taxes, halts the accumulation of federal tax debts, and prohibits the receipt of tax credits and deductions upon release.
FACT: Incarceration neither changes one’s obligation to pay taxes and tax debts nor prohibits the receipt of tax credits and deductions upon release.

MYTH: Medicaid agencies are required to terminate benefits if an otherwise eligible individual is incarcerated.
FACT: States are not required to terminate eligibility for individuals who are incarcerated based solely on inmate status. States may suspend eligibility during incarceration, enabling an individual to remain enrolled in the state Medicaid program, thereby facilitating access to Medicaid services following release.
SECTION VI: SHELTER AND HOUSING

It is important to know that you have a place to go upon release. One of the first and most important steps in returning to the community is finding a place to stay. This section includes both VA and community-based resources that can assist you with locating emergency shelters, transitional housing programs, and permanent housing assistance. Transitional or temporary housing can serve as a step toward full independence upon your release. However, there are often waiting lists for housing assistance programs, so you may want to ask about applying to programs as soon as possible.

As you approach your release date, it is important to work with correctional facility re-entry and discharge planning staff. It is also important to take advantage of any re-entry planning classes or workshops offered by the correctional facility. Facility staff has access to valuable information regarding shelters and other community resources to assist you with your housing needs. If you are released and do find yourself homeless, emergency assistance is available.

A. Emergency Housing and Shelter

If using a phone book, look in the yellow pages of your phone book under “Social Service Organizations” for local shelters or other organizations that may be able to help you. You may also look in the blue pages of your phone book under local, city, or county government Department of Social Services or “Human Services” for additional resources and information.

National Resources: Here are some national resources that may be able to help you with resources and information:

- Alabama Veterans Network (AlaVetNet) alavetnet.alabama.gov
  The AlaVetNet website connects Veterans with resources and services tailored to their unique needs. AlaVetNet created a searchable database of resources for Veterans based on the areas they live. On the Resources for Veterans page, Veterans can browse local service providers that fit their needs. Veterans can search for as many as ten different types of services in the areas they live. Each of the resources listed on this website have been vetted for legitimacy and relevance. Additional resources will be added four times each year. The intent is to make it easy for Alabama's Veterans, Service Members, and their families to readily locate service providers who are well-capable of delivering the benefits and services which have been earned, often at great price.

B. Permanent Housing

Finding permanent housing may be challenging to find immediately upon your release. However, it is still worthwhile to begin to have a sense of available resources when the time comes for you to take this very important step. Please bear in mind that these programs have eligibility guidelines and program requirements, so be sure to contact these programs directly in order to learn more upon your release from custody. You may also contact your local VA medical center for additional information and/or programs. Find contact information in Section H - Seeking Benefits on Your Own.

HUD-VASH Program

The Department of Housing and Urban Development – VA Supportive Housing (HUD-VASH) Program is a joint effort between HUD and VA to move Veterans and their families out of homelessness and into permanent housing. HUD provides housing assistance through its Housing Choice Voucher Program (Section 8) that allows homeless Veterans to rent privately owned housing. VA offers eligible homeless Veterans clinical and supportive services through its health care system across the 50 states, the District of Columbia, Puerto Rico, and Guam.
Who May Be Eligible?
Veterans who are homeless, as defined by the McKinney Act:

An individual (or family group) who lacks a fixed regular and adequate night time residence and who has a primary night time residence that is:
- a supervised publicly or privately operated shelter designed to provide temporary living accommodations including welfare hotels, congregate shelters, and transitional housing for mentally ill;
- an institution that provides a temporary residence for individuals intended to institutionalized; or
- a public or private place not designed for, or ordinarily used as, a regular sleeping accommodation for human beings.

Homeless Veterans who are eligible for a full range of VA services.

Homeless Veterans who are in need of intensive case management and are willing to accept this as a part of their rehabilitation process.

Homeless Veterans or family members who are NOT subject to a lifetime registration under a state sex offender registration program.

Highest priority for this program is for chronically homeless disabled Veterans and families (defined as consistently homeless for one year or 4 episodes of homelessness in past 3 years).

For specific information, please contact one of the HCHV Coordinators identified on Page 23 of this guidebook.

Supported Services for Veteran Families (SSVF) Program
Under the SSVF program, VA awards grants to private non-profit organizations and consumer cooperatives who can provide supportive services to very low-income Veteran families living in or transitioning to permanent housing. Grantees provide eligible Veteran families with outreach, case management, and assistance in obtaining VA and other benefits, which may include: health care services; daily living services; personal financial planning services; transportation services; fiduciary and payee services; legal services; child care services; housing counseling services. In addition, grantees may also provide time-limited payments to third parties (e.g., landlords, utility companies, moving companies, and licensed child care providers) if these payments help Veteran families stay in or acquire permanent housing on a sustainable basis.

SSVF focuses on homelessness prevention and rapid rehousing. Homelessness prevention assistance is intended for eligible Veteran families who are imminently at-risk of becoming literally homeless but for SSVF assistance. SSVF rapid re-housing assistance is intended for eligible Veteran families who are literally homeless and may remain literally homeless but for SSVF assistance. Targeting SSVF assistance in this manner helps ensure limited SSVF resources are directed to Veteran families most in need of assistance to prevent or end their homelessness.
Who May Be Eligible?
Tenants: Veterans may be single or part of a family in which the head of the household or spouse is a Veteran and the discharge status must be under conditions other than dishonorable. Participants must be very low-income, meaning they earn less than 50 percent of the area median income (AMI).

Eligible Veterans living in permanent housing must be at-risk of becoming homeless if not for SSVF assistance, or Veterans must be currently homeless but scheduled to become a resident of permanent housing within 90 days pending the location of permanent housing, or Veterans must have exited permanent housing within the previous 90 days in order to seek housing that better fits with their needs.

The only SSVF provider in Alabama is the United Way of Central Alabama. You may contact the United Way by calling 2-1-1.

Community-Based Programs

Community Action Agencies: www.communityactionpartnership.com
Community Action Partnership is a national, nonprofit membership organization that provides technical assistance, training and other resources to Community Action Agencies, nonprofit and public groups funded by the Community Services Block Grant (CSBG), a federal program that allocates funding to states to combat poverty across the United States. The resources provided to Community Action Agencies across the country by Community Action Partnership allow our Agencies to stay up-to-date on the latest best practices to fight poverty and empower low-income individuals and families to achieve self-sufficiency. We are committed to strengthening, promoting, representing and serving our Network of Agencies to assure that the issues of poverty are effectively presented and addressed.

CAAs provide emergency assistance to people in crisis; address the causes of poverty through programs that fight unemployment, inadequate housing, poor nutrition, and lack of educational opportunity; and provide training in advocacy skills.

CAAs provide basic support and training services. If you need any of the services that CAAs provide, please call the CAA closest to you. (For a complete listing of all Alabama CAAs go to their website and visit the “Find Your CAA” tab.)
SECTION VII: MENTAL HEALTH AND SUBSTANCE ABUSE SERVICES

Although your upcoming release from custody may be exciting to think about, it may also be a source of a large amount of anxiety for you. You may be excited about how your life will be different “this time,” but there may be challenges that you may be confronted with. You may have to reestablish ties with family, return to high-risk places or communities, look for work, and secure some sort of viable and legitimate income. Sometimes incarcerated individuals have inconsistent or even poor work histories and now have a criminal record to contend with that may make securing any type of employment even more difficult.

For incarcerated Veterans who have a history of mental health and/or substance abuse, facing these and other stressors without the sometimes needed structure and support, especially as they return to the community after what may have been a long period of incarceration, may become overwhelming and increase your risk of relapse. Programs are available to eligible Veterans through the Department of Veterans Affairs to help them transition from incarceration to the community by providing continued structure, support, and services so that they may obtain assistance during a very important and stressful time.

Should you be eligible for parole, it may be stipulated by the parole board that you enter some sort of long-term residential program. Please be aware that this is not an extensive listing of available resources. However, this list should provide you with at least some resources and programs that may be of benefit to you. Please also refer to the resources previously listed in this guidebook for other programming. Many of these resources are available to both men and women.

SECTION VIII: WOMEN VETERANS

Women Veterans are one of the fastest growing segments of the Veteran population. Of the 22.7 million living Veterans, more than 1.8 million are women. They comprise nearly 8 percent of the total Veteran population and 6 percent of all Veterans who use VA healthcare services. Women Veterans are eligible for all of the programs male veterans are, however they also have access to female specific care.

A. Women’s Programs through the Department of Veterans Affairs

A Women Veterans Program Manager advises and advocates for women Veterans. She can help coordinate all the services you may need, from primary care to specialized care for chronic conditions or reproductive health. A listing of all VAMC locations in Alabama is listed on Pages 19-21 of this guide. Contact your local Women’s Coordinator using the following phone numbers:

- For the CAVHCS Montgomery-West Campus Women’s Coordinator call: 334-272-4670 ext. 4782

- Mental health includes evaluation and assistance for issues such as depression, mood, and anxiety disorders; intimate partner and domestic violence; sexual trauma; elder abuse or neglect; parenting and anger management; marital, caregiver, or family-related stress; and post-deployment adjustment or post-traumatic stress disorder (PTSD).
- Military Sexual Trauma (MST). Women-and men as well—may experience repeated sexual harassment or sexual assault during their military service. Special services are available to women who have experienced MST. VA provides free, confidential counseling and treatment for mental and physical health conditions related to MST. More information is available about MST from the national Women Veterans Health Care program and the VHA Office of Mental Health.

SECTION IX – LESBIAN, GAY, BISEXUAL, AND TRANSGENDERED VETERANS

The Department of Veterans Affairs/Veterans Health Administration (VHA) is committed to addressing the special health needs of Lesbian, Gay, Bisexual and Transgender (LGBT) Veterans and reducing health disparities for them and members of other vulnerable communities. VHA’s commitment to LGBT Veterans includes:

• Providing information, guidance and education to VHA providers about LGBT health issues.
• Promoting a welcoming health and work environment that is inclusive of LGBT Veterans and employees.

Like many other populations identified as at-risk or disadvantaged, research has demonstrated that LGBT individuals experience disparities not only in the prevalence of certain physical and mental health concerns, but also in care due to a variety of factors, including experiences of stigma, lack of awareness, and insensitivity to their unique needs.

In addition, LGBT patients face other barriers to equitable care, such as refusals of care, delayed or substandard care, mistreatment, inequitable policies and practices, little or no inclusion in health outreach or education, and inappropriate restrictions or limits on visitation. These inequalities may be even more pronounced for LGBT people from racial/ethnic minorities or due to other characteristics such as education level, income, geographic location, language, immigration status and cultural beliefs. Experiences of discrimination and mistreatment have, in many cases, contributed to a long-standing distrust of the health care system by many in the LGBT community and have affected their health in profound ways.

VHA developed the role of LGBT Program Coordinator at the headquarters level to advise on LGBT-related national policy and procedures and to coordinate national initiatives across various clinical program offices. In addition, the LGBT Program Coordinators develop and deliver training to clinical staff on LGBT health care, and maintain the LGBT employee resource websites.

120 VA health care facilities throughout the Nation are participating in the Human Rights Campaign’s 2013 Healthcare Equality Index (HEI). Participation in the HEI consists of reporting health care systems’ policies and trainings related to LGBT patients and families; it is known as an indicator of an LGBT-positive health care environment. The Human Rights Campaign (HRC) Foundation skillfully designed the HEI to allow U.S. health care organizations to assess the degree to which they provide LGBT patient-centered care, to identify and remedy any gaps and to make public their commitment to LGBT patients and their families.

Many VA medical centers now have a LGBT Special Emphasis Group and a designated LGBT Special Emphasis Program Manager to assist in increasing LGBT awareness, cultural competency, community outreach, and recruitment and retention efforts. Ensuring that LGBT veterans and employees feel welcomed, respected, and connected is essential to achieving VA’s goals of providing patient centric care, and fostering a diverse workforce and inclusive work environment.

SECTION X: EMPLOYMENT ASSISTANCE

Often, individuals who are released from incarceration feel as though they are completely starting over, even if they had good jobs and worked steadily in the past. Having a stable income is important for many aspects of daily life, from maintaining your housing, paying bills, buying food, toiletries, and clothing, as well as other necessities that can smooth your transition back into the community.

If available, take advantage of any training or education programming that is afforded to you at the correctional facilities. Your facility case manager or reintegration staff is a good resource for you in regard to locating resources in your area upon release.

In addition, the following resources may be of assistance to you as you transition from incarceration to living in the community:

Work Opportunity Tax Credit Program (WOTC) Tax Credit For Hiring Program
The Work Opportunity Tax Credit (WOTC) is a Federal tax credit incentive that employers may receive for hiring individuals from certain target groups who have consistently faced significant barriers to employment. The main objective of this program is to enable the targeted employees to gradually move from economic dependency into self-sufficiency as they earn a steady income and become contributing taxpayers, while participating employers are compensated by being able to reduce their federal income tax liability.

Employers make the hiring decision, and there is no limit to the number of new hires who can qualify the employer for the tax savings, but individuals must be identified as members of one of these targeted groups before a job offer is made. For a list of the targeted groups, go to www.doleta.gov/business/incentives/opptax/eligible.cfm.

Amount of the Credit
The amount of the tax credit is based on a percentage of qualified wages paid to the new employee for the first year of employment only. Both the percentage and the cap on qualifying wages vary based on which target group the new employee falls into. For more details on WOTC benefit amounts, go to www.doleta.gov/business/incentives/opptax/benefits.cfm.

PeopleReady
PeopleReady specializes in filling a wide variety of general labor jobs, ones that typically require basic skills. Pay rates vary from job to job. You will know the pay rate for every job before you accept it.

Federal Bonding Program
In 1966, the U.S. Department of Labor (USDOL) created the Federal Bonding Program (FBP) as an employer job-hire incentive that guaranteed the job honesty of at-risk job seekers. Federal financing of Fidelity Bond insurance, issued free-of-charge to employers, enabled the delivery of bonding services as a unique job placement tool to assist ex-offenders, and other at-risk/hard-to-place job applicants (e.g., recovering substance abusers, welfare recipients, poor credit, etc.). Ex-offenders, including anyone with a record of arrest, conviction or imprisonment, and anyone who has ever been on probation or parole, are at-risk job applicants. Failure to become employed after release is a major factor contributing to the high rate of recidivism. Having a record of arrest, conviction or imprisonment functions as a significant barrier to employment since employers generally view ex-offenders as potentially untrustworthy workers and insurance companies usually designate ex-offenders as being “not bondable” for job honesty.

United States Department of Labor Veterans’ Employment and Training Service (VETS) Program
The Veterans Employment & Training Services (VETS) program is provided with grant funding from the U.S. Department of Labor (DOL). The grant allows the Department of Career Services (DCS) to provide Disabled Veteran's Outreach Program (DVOP) specialists and Local Veteran Employment Representatives (LVERs) at One-Stop Career Centers across the state.
The purpose of the VETS grant is to ensure the provision of a full range of employment and training services to veterans. Since veterans are given priority of service status under the law, it is particularly important for LVERs and DVOPs to be connected with all Veterans coming into the Career Centers. In addition, LVERs and DVOPs maintain up-to-date information about all the programs and services available to assist Veterans at the federal, state, and local level.

Alabama State Bar Referral Service
The Lawyer Referral Service is a state bar program which helps members of the public who can afford to pay a lawyer find an attorney who handles their type matter. Attorneys who participate in the ASB Lawyer Referral Service agree to charge not more than $50 for an initial 30 minute consultation; the fee for any additional work must be agreed-upon by the client and lawyer. Call 800-392-5660 for more information or to get a referral.
If you live in Jefferson County, the Birmingham Bar Association operates its own lawyer referral service. Call 205-251-8006 for more information or to get a referral.
How Does the Lawyer Referral Service Work?
When you call the Lawyer Referral Service’s toll free number (800-392-5660) you will be asked to briefly state your problem. All information will be held in the strictest confidence. After listening to your problem, the Lawyer Referral Service representative will ask for your name, address, telephone number and any other necessary information. You will then be given the name of one lawyer located near you, if one is available, who practices in the area of law that relates to your problem. The service does not have attorneys who handle all types of legal problems in all areas of the state. The service does not provide lists of attorneys.
When you request and receive a referral through the Alabama State Bar’s website, you must agree to the Terms of Service and choose the area of law and the type of problem. You must enter your name, address and email address, and you must indicate the county in which you are having the legal problem. You will receive the name and phone number for one lawyer who practices in the county you indicated if one is available. The service does not have attorneys who handle all types of legal problems in all areas of the state.
When you receive a referral, it is your responsibility to contact the lawyer to make an appointment to discuss your legal problem. The Lawyer Referral Service cannot make appointments for callers. When you call to make your appointment with the lawyer, be sure to tell him or her that the Alabama State Bar Lawyer Referral Service has referred you.

When is the Lawyer Referral Service Open?
The Alabama State Bar Lawyer Referral Service’s toll free number (800-392-5660) operates Monday through Friday, from 8:30 a.m. to 11:30 a.m. and from 1:30 p.m. to 4:30 p.m. Referrals through this website are available 24-hours a day, seven days a week. Lawyer Referral Service members will sometimes include many counties in their coverage area. If you feel that you need a lawyer closer to the site of your legal problem, please call us at 800-392-5660 and we will attempt to narrow down your search.

Criminal Court Appointed Attorneys
If you cannot afford a private attorney, you have a right to a public defender appointed by the court. While public defenders seem to get a bad reputation, they shouldn’t because they are held to the same ethical standards as private attorneys and since they work in the courthouse more frequently than some private attorneys, they may have a better relationship with the judge.

B. Veteran Treatment Court
If you find yourself in the predicament where you acquire another criminal charge, you may be eligible to enter a Veterans Treatment Court instead of going through the usual criminal channels. Be sure to inform your attorney that you are a Veteran.

The Veterans Treatment Court is designed to divert select members of the Veteran population, charged with non-violent misdemeanor and felony crimes, away from jail and into appropriate rehabilitative programs. Many of these Veterans have medical, mental health and other problems, including those resulting from their military service. While the programs vary by court, the ideal is to provide access to VHA mental health and substance use services when clinically indicated and other VA services and benefits as appropriate. Where the Veteran may not be eligible for certain VA benefits, community resources may be available. By addressing the root cause for the criminal behavior, those involved seek to improve the lives of the offending Veterans and promote public safety by supporting sobriety and law-abiding behavior through reducing relapse and recidivism for moderate risk individuals. Through the VTC, the Court, probation, prosecution, defense, treatment professionals, and VJO Specialists (Veteran Justice Outreach Specialists) will work collaboratively to provide a direct link between a Veteran in VTC, the court and treatment resources at the VA.

The following counties in Alabama feature a Veterans Court. If the court you are in does not offer a Veterans Treatment Court, you may request a change of venue to one of the courts who does have a Veterans Treatment Court.

[ ] Notify the VA immediately when released to reinstate your receipt of benefits. (Guard your release documents like they are Gold, they are very hard to replace if lost or misplaced.)
FORMS:

Below are brief descriptions of forms needed to file for certain VA benefits. Be sure that you use a return address where mail will get to you as quickly as possible. Make photocopies of all forms for your records before sending your packet to the VA Regional Office (VARO) nearest you. Your pre-release/re-entry coordinator can get copies of the forms for you. Your HCRV Specialist will also be able to obtain these forms for you as needed and will be able to assist you with completion of them when you are preparing for your release from custody. The forms may also be found by visiting https://www.va.gov/vaforms/search_action.asp#searchform.

- VA Form 21-4193 – Notice to Department of Veterans Affairs of Veteran or Beneficiary Incarcerated in Penal Institution: Must be filed to notify the VA of your incarceration in order to avoid an overpayment. May also be used to notify the VA of your release in order to get your full benefits reinstated.

- VA Form 21-526EZ – Application for Compensation and Related Compensation Benefits: Must be filed to apply for compensation or pension benefits. Mail your DD-214 and the following forms to the VARO nearest your release destination 30-45 days before release.

- VA Form 21-4142 – Authorization to Disclose Information to the Department of Veterans Affairs: If you have received medical or mental health care that may be relevant to your claim from anyone other than a VA Medical Center, you need to fill out this form for each care provider you have received treatment at giving permission for release of medical records to the VA. We do not recommend the use of this form.

- VA Form 21-0788 – Information Regarding Apportionment of Beneficiary’s Award: This is the form that must be submitted to pay a portion of the veteran’s benefit to a dependent (spouse, child, or parent). Where the veteran’s disability compensation award is reduced due to incarceration, a portion of the whole benefit may be payed to the dependent.

- VA Form 10-10EZ – Application for Health Benefits: This is the form that you need to submit, along with a copy of your DD214, in order to initially enroll in VA healthcare. Complete the form and bring it with you to your nearest VA medical center where you wish to receive treatment.

- VA Form 10-10EZR – Health Benefits Update Form: This is the form that you need to update your personal, insurance, or financial information after you are enrolled in VA healthcare. The information provided will be used by VA to determine your continued eligibility for medical benefits. This form should be completed on a yearly basis.

- VA Form 10-10HS – Request for Hardship Determination: This is the form that you need to submit, along with financial information, to show that your income versus your allowable expenses places you below the VA threshold and exempt you from paying hospital and medical co-pays and qualifies you for enrollment in Priority Group 5.
• DD Form 293 – Application for the Review of Discharge From the Armed Forces of the United States: This is the form that you will need if you are requesting review of your military service for possible upgrade in discharge status. This form is used if you separated from service within the last 15 years.

• DD Form 149 – Application for Correction of Military Record under the Provisions of Title 10, U.S. Code, Section 1552 – This is the form that you will need if you are requesting review of your military service for possible upgrade in discharge status if you separated from service over 15 years ago.

• SF-180 – Request Pertaining to Military Records: This form will need to be completed if you need to request a certified copy of your DD214 from your branch of service or from the National Personnel Records Center in St. Louis, Missouri. As noted we recommend the electronic version of this request.
